Dear Ms. Bagrationi,

At this special time of year, I wanted to take this opportunity to thank you for your leadership support of Memorial Sloan Kettering.

As Thanksgiving approaches, families across the country will be gathering together for their festive meal to give thanks for the lifesaving advances you helped make possible.

Whether your support helped MSK researchers discover a new treatment for women diagnosed with breast cancer or helped fund an immunotherapy treatment that attacks cancer using a patient's own cells, your commitment has been crucial in advancing our mission. You have given parents, grandparents and children something to be thankful for this year: their successful treatment because of research advanced at MSK.

Your contributions enable our scientists to pursue promising new ideas and allow our physicians to offer the latest cancer treatments. Your support has funded leading-edge research, education, and patient care that will have an impact for years—and countless Thanksgivings—to come.

Thank you again for your personal commitment to the battle against cancer and for entrusting MSK with your philanthropic support. You inspire us as we continue to find new ways to provide the best possible outcomes, every day of the year.

Happy Thanksgiving to you and your family,

Richard Naum
Senior Vice President, Development
