Dear Diana Bagrationi:

On behalf of the organizers of the 12th Russian Film Week we would like to thank Diana Bagrationi Foundation for its significant support of this annual event that was held this year from October 9th to October 13th in New York City.

We are honored to having you as a partner in this cultural initiative officially endorsed by the Ministry of Culture of the Russian Federation as well as the leading political figures and organizations of Russia and the United States, such as the U.S. Senate, City Administration of New York and the Russian government, among others.

Russian Film Week plays a very important role in developing and promoting the art of Russian film-making around the world and we are grateful that such a prominent organization as yours took an active role in the implementation of this project.

We are looking forward to working with Diana Bagrationi Foundation in the future.

Sincerely Yours,

Anna Treyer – Simakova
Executive Director
12th Russian Film Week in New York
