TO: PRINCES DIANA BAGRATIONI FOUNDATION

Dear ladies and gentlemen,

On behalf of The New Review, Inc. and "The New Review" magazine, I would like to thank the Diana Bagrationi Foundation for continued generous support of the Russian Documentary Film Festival in New York. The Foundation's assistance as a partner of our corporation in the festival's organizing programs in 2014 and as one of the sponsors of the project gives us an opportunity to continue the traditions of Russian documentary film festivals abroad. With this partnership we were able to screen 21 documentaries made by Russian film-studios and American film-directors at Tribeca Cinemas and DCTV in 2014, to organize a special program "Remembering the Holocaust in the XXI century", to place a radio "pop-quiz" program about history of our festival, to organize the Closing Award Ceremony, etc.

We especially would like to express our gratitude to Mrs. Diana Bagrationi whose enthusiasm and generosity give us opportunities to combine our efforts on this project.

During the last six years, "The New Review" and Princes Diana Bagrationi Foundation have established close creative ties. We hope that our cooperation on the project of the Russian Documentary Film Festival in NYC will be continued in the future.

Once again, we would like to express our gratitude for your support in organizing the Seventh Russian Documentary Film Festival in 2014.

With utmost regard,

Marina Adamovitch
Curator of the RDFF,
The New Review, Inc.
